

Lisa Wade

Catalyst for Courageous and Conscious Communication

SPEAKER | AUTHOR | PODCAST HOST | COMMUNICATION CONSULTANT & COACH

Biography

Lisa Wade is passionate about guiding clients to communicate in a way that enhances both their personal and professional lives.

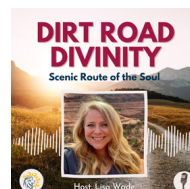

An entrepreneur since 2004, Lisa founded Golden Energy Leadership and Lisa Wade Communication where she is a communication and advocacy consultant to mission-driven organizations, a public speaking coach, and a certified interpersonal Communication Coach with Life Languages Intl.™ She empowers purpose-driven leaders and organizations to enjoy confident, clear, and compelling connection through effective communication at the interpersonal, public speaking, and intuitive levels.

Her career has spanned from political, advocacy, and communication professional in Washington, D.C. to nonprofit executive director, board member, and consultant, community activist, and college instructor. She has provided communication and advocacy counsel to U.S. Senators and Representatives, national and local nonprofit executives, authors, thought leaders, athletes, entertainers, and film producers, and she has worked extensively with media around the world.

Lisa earned bachelor's degrees in communication and public relations from William Jewell College and a master's in Political Management and Advocacy Communication from George Washington University in the nation's capital.

Today, in addition to being a catalyst for courageous and conscious communication, Lisa is an international speaker, author, and podcast host. Her first book, Real. Big. Love. A Difference Maker's Guide to Gain Greater Clarity, Energy and Impact for Your Cause and Life, offers practical insights to help change-makers shift from feeling overwhelmed and exhausted to optimistic and energized while making their unique contribution in the world. Her podcasts Dirt Road Divinity and The Mission-Driven Messenger are platforms for uplifting insights about the power of communication for a cause and for the soul.

Lisa is Mom to one wicked-smart daughter in college and a goofy Golden Retriever. She lives with her dream guy Jim in Sugar Land – the sweetest city in Texas.

 lisa@lisawadecommunication.com

 lisawadecommunication.com

 youtube.com/@LisaWadeCommunication

 +1 918.913.1011

 facebook.com/lisawadecommunication

 linkedin.com/in/lisawade23

 instagram.com/lisawadecommunication

 dirtroaddivinity.com